Palo Alto College names new Director of Institutional Research

Pedro Hinojosa, who has been at Palo Alto College since April 2012, has been named the new Director of Institutional Research, Planning and Effectiveness, effective Aug. 1.

He succeeds Lanette Garza, who left earlier this year to accept a librarian position at Trinity University.

Hinojosa previously served as Senior Research Specialist and Coordinator of Institutional Assessment and Research at PAC.

Prior to joining PAC, Hinojosa was an adjunct professor of sociology and a research assistant at the University of Texas at San Antonio.

He earned his B.S. and M.S. degrees in Sociology from UTSA with a concentration in social statistics. He has published articles in the areas of public health and the sociology of religion and family. He plans to pursue a doctorate in Sociology.

Palo Alto College is a fully accredited community college located on the Southside of San Antonio, and awards associate degrees, short-term certificates and offers non-credit continuing education classes. The campus is located at 1400 W. Villaret Blvd. or online at alamo.edu/pac
