Kimberly Grossett English

"Everybody is a genius, but if you judge a fish by its ability to climb a tree, it will live its whole life believing that it is stupid."

-Albert Einstein

Biography

Kimberly Grossett has been a stay-at-home parent for the last sixteen years to an amazing boy. When her son began high school, she realized that she needed to figure out what she wanted to do once her son went to college. Her son does so well in school and enjoys learning new things so much that Kimberly was inspired to go to college. She has discovered that she loves being a lifelong learner.

Kimberly loves reading, and it has been a pleasure to read and discuss books with her son. Her love of reading has inspired her to help other students her son's age learn how to love to read for fun. Kimberly started a book club for 4th and 5th grade boys and a three-generation book club that includes students, their parents and their grandparents.

She has served as president of the Future Teacher's Organization for three semesters, and is a member of Phi Theta Kappa, the Honors Academy, and the Young Men's Service League where she performs community service as a team with my son. She looks forward to graduating in May and transferring to the Honors College at UTSA where she will major in English with a Teacher Certification and minor in Reading Specialization.
