In order to take the THEA IBT, you must bring two forms of personal identification, one of which is photographic identification, to the test site:

- Examples of photographic identification include (but are not limited to):
  - Valid driver's license
  - Valid passport
  - Student identification card
  - Military identification card
  - Current alien registration card
  - Department of Public Safety card
  - Matricula Consular

- Examples of non-photographic identification include (but are not limited to):
  - Pay stub
  - Insurance card
  - Social security card
  - Valid credit card
  - Yearbook
  - Description of the examinee written on high school or college stationery, signed by an official of that institution

If the name on your identification differs from the name in which you are registering, you must bring official verification of the change (e.g., marriage certificate, court order).

Before testing, the test proctor will verify that the information on your identification documents matches your registration information. If your score report is produced at the test site after test completion, the proctor will also verify that the name appearing on the score report matches the name on your identification documents.
