Welcome!

This community resource list has been compiled for your convenience. It contains contact information for mental health resources, and other treatment and community support agencies in the San Antonio community.

Most of these agencies function on a sliding-scale fee system. We recommend students contact these agencies directly for more information about their fee structure. Students may also want to contact their insurance company as a primary source for referral listings.

Information on non-Northwest Vista College organizations are provided solely as a service to our students. These referrals do not constitute an endorsement of these organizations or their programs by Northwest Vista College, and none should be inferred.

For additional resources not seen here, or for questions or corrections, please contact NVC Counseling Services!

Please Note:

We attempt to highlight low-cost services in this referral guide.

However, each agency may have different requirements to qualify.

Please contact these organizations directly for more information on their fees and eligibility requirements.

Scholarships — usually based on athletic or academic merit, or your field of study.

Grants—funds are usually need-based (for example, based on family income). Federal grants are the most common.

Loans— Federal Loans are the most common and provide the most protection to student consumers. Loans should be a last resort if scholarships or grants are unavailable. Loans must be repaid!

This community resource list has been compiled for your convenience. It contains contact information for mental health resources, and other treatment and community support agencies in the San Antonio community.

Most of these agencies function on a sliding-scale fee system. We recommend students contact these agencies directly for more information about their fee structure. Students may also want to contact their insurance company as a primary source for referral listings.

Information on non-Northwest Vista College organizations are provided solely as a service to our students. These referrals do not constitute an endorsement of these organizations or their programs by Northwest Vista College, and none should be inferred.

For additional resources not seen here, or for questions or corrections, please contact NVC Student Advocacy and Resource Center.
