

Faculty Tips For Success

- “1) Communicate with your instructor regularly, especially if there is a problem.
- 2) Don't be afraid to ask questions. No question is "dumb."
- 3) Add due date reminders for assignments on your cell phone or tablet calendar.”

Jamie Miranda, M.A.

English & INRW Instructor
Communications & Learning

“One tip for success I have used in my own career came for the most part from Steve Jobs; 'Try, try and then try,...we can't guaranteed we will always succeed, but if we don't try,...we can guaranteed we will never succeeded!!”

Salvador Arriaga, B.A.A.S., M.E.

Instructor - Electrical Trades

“Remember that education is the key that will open many doors for you. Do not take it for granted. Take advantage of every opportunity to learn and grow as a student and person. Know that you are not alone. If you need support, ask for it. We who have made education our life's work want to see you succeed; let us know how we can help. Welcome to St. Philip's College.”

Ruben Jimenez, MSN RN CNL-BC

Instructor - Vocational Nursing Department

“If you have time today, do it today. Don't say, "I've put aside time to do it on Tuesday," because SOMETHING will inevitably get in your way on Tuesday, and then you'll be stuck!”

Georgiene Hudnall

Instructor – Theatre

“I believe that the number 1 key to success in any Internet class is: never procrastinate. Invariably, students will put off completing their assignments, especially major tests, until the last day before they are due. Instead of taking the material in manageable bits, they will try to cram four chapters of reading and testing into one weekend, and will almost always fail. I think the old adage, "Never put off to tomorrow what you can do today," certainly applies to online learning.”

Mary Jon and J. P. Bryan Professor of History

Faculty Tips For Success

“Make a weekly plan of face-to-face and online assignments to keep track!
It’s hard but not impossible! You got this!”

Dr. Lucero Martinez Delgado

Instructor- Biology

“You can’t win the race if you’re not IN the race...STAY in the race.”

Chef Cris Goloby

Instructor – Culinary Arts

"Start your day off with recognizing doubt and putting it in its place. Don't avoid fear, address it wholeheartedly, and then approach every person and opportunity you come across each day without it. It takes practice, so do not put it off. If I can do it - you can do it."

Michaleen Christ Herrera, RN, BSN, CNOR, CSSM

Nursing Education Adjunct Faculty

“This is your opportunity to reinvent the academic self in you. Instructors do not know who you were; they do not know if you were a D student or an A student. Go for the college student you want to be!”

Alicia D Dominguez

Academic Program Specialist – Communications and Learning
