Oak Tree Dedication in honor of Col. Roy W. Burley

The late Col. Roy W. Burley, Sr., a graduate of Phyllis Wheatley High School and Prairie View A&M College (now Prairie View A&M University), was a veteran of WWII, the Korean War and Vietnam War. He retired from military service in 1973, after a distinguished career as an Army officer, and joined the University Health System Board of Managers. He was also instrumental in the creation of Texas Diabetes Institute. He lent his expertise in finance and human resources to causes impacting the lives of underserved and minoritized populations and was active in his service to San Antonio's Eastside. Today, the tree that stood in his own backyard for decades grows on St. Philip's College land and was dedicated in memory of "The Colonel." Saint Artemisia Bowden (SAB) Building

The Saint Artemisia Bowden Building is a 25,000-square-foot, two-story replacement building for the existing facility that accommodates the Business Information Solutions Department, Corporate and Entrepreneurial Training Center, the Microsoft Testing Center for Microsoft Office Specialists and a cyber range. The building includes classrooms, computer labs, the Volunteer Income Tax Assistance [VITA] Center and staff offices. Artemisia Bowden, the daughter of emancipated slaves, led the institution from 1902 to 1954 and, in 2015, was named a Holy Woman by the Episcopal Church. Clarence W. Norris (CWN) Building

The extensive renovation of the Clarence Windzell Norris Building began in 2019. The facility was built in 1970 and originally completed with three floors. A fourth floor was added in 1972. The building was named in 1975 in honor of Dr. Clarence W. Norris Sr., then Dean Emeritus. In March 2020, the Alamo Colleges District Board voted to grant President Emeritus status posthumously to Dr. Norris for his 30 years of dedicated service to the college. In addition, the Board voted to rename the Norris Technical Building to the Clarence W. Norris Building, to reflect its current use. It houses the Reading and English departments, Instructional Technology and the Information and Communication Technology department. It is also host to the Learning Lab, Reading Lab, Tutoring and Technology Center (TNT) and the Rose R. Thomas Writing Center. SMART® Classrooms and training labs are located throughout the building. William Allen Hudgins (WAH) Health and Wellness Building

The 57,000-square-foot facility will replace the existing college fitness center built in 1949. The two-story gymnasium and natatorium will include an elevated track, short course swimming pool, therapy pool, weight and cardio training spaces, aerobic studio, a cardio studio, teaching labs for kinesiology, first aid/ CPR, massage therapy, gathering spaces and staff offices. The late William Allen Hudgins is the longest-serving basketball coach, 18 years, and later served as department chair, then Dean of Students.
