Guest Speaker: “On Thursday, November 15, 2018, the World Affairs Council of San Antonio hosted Mr. David Wood as he lectured and answered questions about combat, veterans, and moral injury. Over sixty people came to hear Mr. Wood, who is an experienced war reporter and who won the 2012 Pulitzer Prize for national reporting on wounded warriors. A birthright Quaker raised as a pacifist, Wood has spent more than 30 years covering conflicts around the world, most recently in extended deployments embedded with US troops in Iraq and Afghanistan. His new book, “What Have We Done: The Moral Injury of Our Longest Wars,” explores moral injury, the signature wound of America’s 21st century wars. The Philosophy Club worked with the World Affairs Council to sponsor the event, who enjoyed student interaction and are planning more city-wide events.”

Audience Responses:

- 1) some surprised, as they don't think of our involvement in Afghanistan as a ‘war’.
- 2) others were more surprised by the fact that Mr. Wood predicted the war will end very soon - i.e. within a year.”

Center for the Study of Ethics and Weapons: Andy Hill, Matt Fuller proposal.
